"It's been our mission to cover the earth with our designs, so why not cover ourselves in our own "paint".

"We just tried to imagine the classicism of the restaurant in kit form."

twenty- ten

2010 was all about continuing a tradition of disruption and unexpectedness. With work for many different folks and all flavor types...we really are covering the earth in a new approach to what cycling kits are and what they should look like.

splinter cell

Panache/Tour Splinter

"Part of the Panache 2010 collection, the splinter was all about disruption."

diamond cut

Panache/Giro Diamond

"This pattern originated from a specific type of camouflage, but became more refined than your battlefield standard."

"Reserved, but noisy."
